Trail map is yours for the asking

MAYBE you were so busy enjoying the scenery on the trail ride that you forgot to take a note of your bearings, the names of the mountains, valleys and rivers that punctuated our itinerary.

Maybe, too, you have since been stymied when some well meaning soul has asked you what direction you rode from such-and-such a lake to reach such-and-such a mountain.

If you would rather say "east-north-east" instead of "a little bit to the right" or be otherwise more explicit just write us for a copy of an easy-to-read map showing the trails we rode and the mountains, lakes, rivers and valleys that lined the route.

The map was drawn by a Banff artist especially for the Trail Riders and will be mailed free and postpaid to any member requesting same.

RETIRING PRESIDENT COMMENDED

Fern Brewster Takes the Helm

ON the night of July 25, while seated around the campfire, Trail Riders heard an announcement that made them all happy.

All eyes were fixed on president Ralph J. Mather as he prepared to announce the name of the president-elect following the annual meeting that afternoon of the executive and council. "Your new president," said Ralph in clear ringing tones, "is Fern P. Brewster of Banff."

No one who knew Fern could marvel at the length and volume of the applause. A life member who has served the organization since its inception, Fern has proven herself a capable executive, a good sport and an ardent Trail Rider.

Who can forget how Fern came to the rescue of those "snowed-in" Eohippus riders back in 1944? Sympathizing with their plight, Fern invited the whole kit and kaboodle to nearby Sunshine Lodge for a hot dinner.

The daughter of the late James I. "Jim" Brewster, whose enthusiasm and influence played so vital a role in the Order's early development, Fern is the second woman to hold the office of chief executive. The other was Mrs. P. A. Moore of Banff.

Vice-president of the Brewster Transport Company, Fern joined the Trail Riders' organization in its inaugural year. Since that time she has participated in more than 20 trail rides in the Banff, Kootenay and Yoho National Parks. She has ridden more trail miles in the Canadian Rockies than can be conveniently chalked up.

She has served on the executive and trail committee and knows most of Banff's neighboring trails as well as most trail riders know their own back yards. Fern is also an ardent skier, being particularly partial to the glistening slopes in the vicinity of Sunshine Lodge where she is manager.

As for retiring president Ralph J. Mather, there is little we can say that will add to his stature in the eyes of the Trail Riders. From the time he first took over the reins of office in 1948, Ralph has given the Trail Riders skilful and efficient leadership.

Addresses on Request

- So you want to write that trail rider you met this summer but you don't know his (or her) address. If so, do not despair. Just drop a note to the Secretary-Treasurer giving member's name and the address will be forwarded.

Royal Society Honors Dr. J. M. Gibbon

In recognition of his services to Canadian arts during his long career as publicist and author, Dr. John Murray Gibbon of Montreal, honorary president and founder of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, was awarded the Lorne Pierce Medal by the Royal Society of Canada at an official ceremony in Halifax.

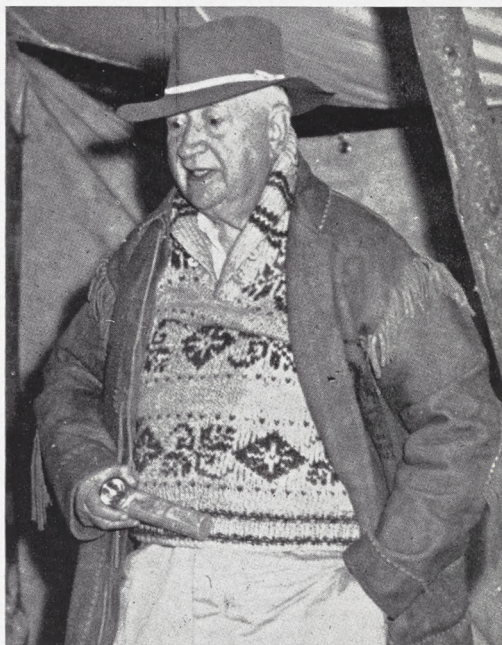

The medal was presented by B. K. Sandwell, another distinguished Canadian author, and a member of the Royal Society.

Dr. Gibbon, who before his retirement was general publicity agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has a number of outstanding literary works to his credit. Foremost among these are "Canadian Mosaic," "Steel of Empire," "Our Old Montreal" "New World Ballads" and "Canadian Folksongs, Old and New."

An enthusiastic patron of the arts, Dr. Gibbon is a charter member of several Montreal societies dedicated to the furtherance of Canadian artistic endeavor.

Despite his extensive research work in the field of folksongs and lyric adaptation Dr. Gibbon has found time to compose complete booklets of song parodies which have been sung for years at the nightly singsongs of the Trail Riders and their sister organization, the Skyline Trail Hikers of the Canadian Rockies.

Dr. Gibbon, who has missed only two rides since he helped found the organization

Dr. John Murray Gibbon

26 years ago, maintained his unusual record this summer by attending the second of the five-day rides. His whimsical reminiscences at the nightly singsong were outstanding features of the campfire entertainment.

YOUR PALS WOULD LIKE TO SEE THEM

- How about those photos you took this summer?

Lots of fellow members would give plenty to see how your pix turned out—especially if they happen to be included in the scene. And it's safe to say plenty of us appear (maybe to wonderful advantage) in shots we never never see.

We realize it's impossible to visit every fellow member and thumb through his or her snapshot album. So as an alternative we suggest this:

Send your snaps to the editor. He'll be glad to feature as many as may be suitable for publication in a forthcoming issue of the Bulletin. If considered not suitable—or if the quota has been reached—the photos will be promptly returned.

FERN BREWSTER TAKES HELM

He has proven himself little short of a human dynamo when it comes to getting things done. Many improvements and innovations that helped streamline the organization's operations were Ralph's brainchildren.

As head of the Mather Travel Bureau in St. Paul, Minn., Ralph has done much to help publicize the organization through U.S. channels. He has also been responsible for the recruiting of new members. Nor should it be forgotten that the retiring president left his business during the height of the tourist season in order to attend the two five-day rides as chief executive.

So to Ralph Mather we say, "Thanks for a job well done." And to incoming president, Fern Brewster, "Very Best of luck for the coming year and a happy and successful term of office."

A Ride We'll All Remember

Twenty-Sixth Annual Ride Voted Outstanding Success By Enthusiastic "Forty-Niners" at Pipestone Camp

IF ASKED just what constitutes a successful trail ride we would suggest the following as the foremost deciding factors: (a) Good companions (b) Good campsite (c) Good weather (d) Good trails (e) Good chow.

Giving 10 points for each of the above we make no hesitation in awarding the 1949 trail rides a score of 47 out of a possible 50! We must reluctantly deduct three points for a period of "darker-than-usual" weather.

On every other point, however, we scored an ace.

Good Companions

Never before have we had a more congenial group assembled under the trail ride banner! Trail Riders from 13 states, six provinces, as well as the Territory of Hawaii, many of whom met as total strangers on the first day, departed as pals and "old acquaintances" on the fifth.

All entered into trail ride life with a zest and enthusiasm that left nothing to be desired. Trail Ride etiquette was observed to the letter by newcomers as well as the vets. Trail ride songs were sung with a new gusto and stunt nite drew a wealth of talent seldom equalled in our history.

The general feeling can be summed up by a casual remark overheard by a trail rider in camp: "There isn't a heel in the whole outfit!"

Good Campsite

The campsite could not have been more favorably located or more expertly set up—thanks to the trail committee and the outfitting crew. Situated some 14 miles northeast of Lake Louise at the junction of Pipestone River and Molar Creek, the site was liberally endowed with all the natural resources that go to make a successful campsite.

Here's what the camp had to offer: An abundance of wood for tepee poles and fuel; a river full of cool, clear water; extensive pasturage for the horses which this year looked sleeker than ever and a wealth of majestic scenery to thrill everyone, particularly the photographers.

Not so good Weather

While not being the best on record, the weather this year was by no means the worst. Grey and blue skies were about evenly distributed on both five-day rides with the results that photographers could get their quota without using up too many flash bulbs. Most trail riders too returned with a swarthy coat of tan which never came from a sun lamp.

It was a field day for those who like to talk about the weather—and who doesn't? Riding over sky-high Deception Pass the cavalcade was attacked by a blinding mid-July blizzard. Half an hour later they were enjoying lunch under hot July sunshine! That's something to tell the folks back home.

Good Trails

This year's base camp was the hub of the most beautiful trails we have ridden in years. These ranged from the heavily wooded variety to great barren slopes high above the timberline. The "woody" trails were broken at regular intervals by open meadows affording everyone a chance for a brisk trot or canter.

The trails were selected so as to include practically every form of negotiable topography the mountains had to offer. One of the finest trails followed the course of the fast-flowing Pipestone River while others led to placid alpine lakes where anglers could obey that impulse. And, of course, there were snowfields where a rider could dismount and be photographed throwing a snowball.

Good Chow

It would be impossible to heap too much praise on the cookhouse staff of 1949! To put it simply the meals were superb, or if you prefer it, out of this world. They'd have been pronounced excellent in a first class city restaurant, and this combined with trail riding appetites, had a tremendous effect on the morale!

Elsewhere in this magazine we have heaped praise on Alvin, Eva and John who were responsible for preparing the sumptuous spreads. Credit too is due the outfitter and his assistants for acquiring the high quality ingredients and transporting them safely to camp.

Attendance Good

Attendance was good on both rides. On the first, held July 15-19, 47 dudes heeded the call of the trails, while the second, July 22-26, accounted for an additional 41 members. Several took advantage of the twelve-day offer, attending both five-day rides and remaining in camp during the interim.

On the big day, Trail Riders were picked up by glass-topped buses at the Banff Springs and Mount Royal Hotels and driven the 38 odd miles between Banff and the Lake Louise starting point. A few others were picked up at Chateau Lake Louise and nearby Deer Lodge and similarly transported to the rendezvous.

At 11.00 a.m. the main body of riders, led by President Ralph Mather, filed out of the corral headed for the "back country" of the Pipestone Valley. Objective for the first day's ride was our base camp at the junction of the Molar, some 12 miles upstream. This constituted an easy first day's ride for the less experienced and still provided a good initial workout for more saddleworthy vets.

The ride set out under ideal weather conditions, though black clouds were already snickering at us from over the horizon! Hard, dry trails, rising gently through a forest of lodgepole pine, led the cavalcade to the shores of the Pipestone River, a shallow fast flowing mountain stream which we forded several times in the course of our travels.

After travelling upstream along the west bank for a distance of two miles or so, we found the lunch crew busily preparing tea and coffee and unpacking great packages of sandwiches, biscuits, oranges and other items on the trailside menu.

Lunch over, we again took to the trail which climbed steadily through great stands of pine and spruce, alternating with open meadows, and topping a long slope into the Pipestone Valley proper between the shoulders of Mount Hector and Mount Richardson.

Emerging abruptly from the timber we found our trail continued under the fast-flowing Pipestone to emerge at a wide meadow on the other side.

At this point raindrops began to fall. A quick halt was called to permit riders to don their slickers. Then followed a brisk canter across the flats to the distant haven of camp in an effort to beat the worst of the storm's onslaught. However, we were forced, at least that one time, to concede old Jupe Pluvius the decision!

The camp, situated in a sheltered half-moon meadow, commanded a superb setting. Between the ridges of Mt. Hector on the north and Mt. Richardson on the south, it afforded a fine view of the Molar and Drummond and Cataract Peaks to the north-east and east.

That night at campfire, during the introductions, the old-timers who well remembered freezing one side and roasting the other side while dodging smoke and draughts around the campfires of other years, were loud in their praise of the latest bit of trail ride progress. The walls of the pow-wow marquee tent, combined with a great doughnut of canvas stretched above and over the enclosed area for 15 feet, to give a sheltered sing-song tent for all kinds of weather. Despite the rain all were snug under this cover, basking in the reflected heat and light from the log fire blazing under the open center section.

Next morning President Ralph led the bulk of the riders up Molar Creek trail. Returning before supper they reported a fine but slightly damp outing to the timid but dry stay-at-homes. Supper was served in the big tepee and the steady chomping of molars was broken but once when the cowboys' tepee caught fire.

The third day dawned with signs of clearing and plans were made for the Fish Lakes ride. Planned as the "feature ride" of the camp, the route provided eight miles of hard trail through meadows interspersed with wooded knolls up the Upper Pipestone Valley to where a new trail had been cut back of the Molar group to two small lakes. The National Parks service had cut this trail from the valley to replace a little known route cutting back from the Pipestone summit, many miles up the valley.

Lunch was brewed among the larches and spruce on the north shore of the larger lake while the fishermen tested the rumors of its piscatorial population. The rumors proved true, to the surprise of the outfitter, who had predicted a barren lake.

Then came the highlight of the day. As every major valley in the mountains boasts at least one "Fish Lake", the National Parks services had decided to change the name of the Fish Lakes we visited. Accordingly it fell to the president to rechristen them the Pipestone Lakes by throwing a boulder into the water in lieu of a bottle of champagne.

For variation on the return, Buddy Brewster led down a trail blazed earlier in the year winding south across a larch plateau to a stream south of the new trail previously ascended. This experience in bushwhacking was a new adventure for most, as the extent of trail improvement consisted of a blaze every hundred yards. All members survived the test.

LET'S SING ABOUT OURSELVES!

by TILLIE KNIGHT

"I DON'T care if this ride should never end!"—That was the theme song of riders who took the Red Deer Lakes trip. Even the lunch hoss got into the swing of it. He kept a-goin' and a-goin' until he nearly leapt over the Divide. Then along came Charlie Cooley — right in the nick of time. Catching up with the jivey gee-gee, he returned both hoss and lunch to the slightly worried gang.

Sometimes I wonder if it's the hosses, the chow, the scenery or something else that gets you. Or maybe it's the weather. But we don't talk about that — mainly because we can't control that small item. Still most of us sported good coats of tan when we returned to civilization. And it didn't rub off with soap and water.

Who was it said — after the fifth sandwich — "I'm going on a diet when I get back to camp!" — and was seen (back in camp) filling her plate for the umpteenth time. Such resolutions should be made in the city — not at those invigorating altitudes.

Again, who was it said "Gee, I'm sore and stiff!" after the Fish Lakes safari? Naturally no one admitted it out loud. But you could spot them 'round singsong time when they eased themselves gently — oh, so gently — along the sidelines.

And who was it we heard chanting "Duffle, duffle, who's got my duffle?" — and then turned out to be one of the purtiest best dressed cowgals in camp? Even the secretary-treasurer (who finally traced the duffle back to Banff) relaxed when he saw how well Phyl had been outfitted by her pals.

Hats off to that famous trio of auctioneers — Gourlay, Douglas and McNicol. Through their efforts at the auction block they raised enough of the folding stuff to help outfit the guides who lost a few garments in the mystery tepee blaze. All the auctioned merchandise was donated by the Trail Riders.

Just found out what happened to Old Sol during July. Seems a hoss fly bit our favorite trail ride hoss "Sunbeam". So Old Sol turned the rain tables on us.

Another kind of rain fell when council member Lib Smith and her merry group of gals headed back east after a pleasant holiday at the Kananaskis dude ranch and on the Trail Ride. Could it be leaving the Rockies, a favorite hoss, or maybe a guide? Guess we were young once too. So it's okay, gals. Do come back again.

You'll be pleased to hear that our favorite guide, Ray Bagley, is okay again and has thrown away his cane...Word comes from his ranch that he is the top hand down there.

An offer from Barnum and Bailey to Nick Morant to bring his "Merry Oldsmobile Troupe" to New York arrived after the troupe had another flat tire, so the offer had to be turned down. Maybe the keeds will produce another super act next year.

Kay Spalding, Gertrude Gleason and pals took to the highways this year, says Kay: "We'll be back on the trailways again come 1950." Here's hoping.

Doctor (ahem, "vice-president") and Alice Vanek of Menomonie, Wis., motored as far as Glacier Park, but ran into some bad luck and had to pass up this year's ride — we'll be looking for you next year.

ACCENT ON YOUTH!

Teen-Aged Troupers Are Tops in Talent

"Please tell us, Trail Riders, why we love you."

These words may not look like much on paper. However, to all of us who heard them sung in glorious harmony 'round the campfire by an equally glorious group of teen-aged girls, the words will bring back sweet memories of the first five-day ride.

Under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth G. Smith of Jenkintown, Pa., these fifteen songsters, all of whom hailed from Pennsylvania and New Jersey, contributed a spicy and youthful zest that made the oldest of us feel like kids again — or wish we were.

We cannot readily forget their varied and delightful contributions to the campfire scene — the melodious blending of their voices, their musical tribute to a dying buffalo, and their hilarious rendition of Hamlet. We feel sure any talent scout who stumbled on the scene would have considered his mission accomplished.

We sincerely hope Miss Smith and the girls will be back with us next summer. We liked them all and we have a hunch they have a soft spot in their hearts for their colleagues of the northern trails.

Horses were alright for fording streams but lake transport called for man-made devices. These girlies chose a raft.

Trail Ride lovelies receive a few pointers on how to clean a fish. The trout were taken from Pipestone Lake on this year's itinerary.

My Horse Laughed and Laughed

by HORACE COPE

I COULD have sworn my horse was laughing at me.

I think those in the immediate vicinity believed it too.

Certainly no whinny ever sounded like that. And obviously the horse was doing more than trying to make conversation. I was getting the horse laugh and I knew it.

What's more, the horse had every reason to laugh. It was my first ride and all I knew about riding was what I had read in the Bulletin. Apparently the horse had enjoyed a far better education. And this one — his name was Buck — must have taken honors in dude baiting.

But let's go back to that sunny July morning when we assembled in the corral near Sunshine Lodge. We all remember the scene — riders milling about the corral, some looking for their horses, others leading their mounts by the halter and the more enthusiastic already perched atop their mounts.

It was sometime before I succeeded in locating my horse — a tall lean tawny colored animal who answered to the name of Buck. By the time Claude had completed introduction proceedings, most of the riders were getting in formation for the take-off.

My immediate concern was to lead the horse to some secluded spot and climb into the saddle. I figured it would really be a climb — a none-too-graceful one — and for that reason I wanted as small an audience as possible. I felt that once I was planted in the saddle my big worries would be over. That is, until the next rest period.

However, in my excitement I got my lines mixed — not only the ones that hung from Buck's jowls, but the ones I thought I had memorized for mounting a horse. The lines had to do with putting the right foot in the left stirrup or left foot in the left stirrup while standing at horse's left or right side and facing fore or aft.

That is how it seemed to me when I was ready for the saddle ascent. "Nice horsie," I said, more with hope than conviction, as I put one of my feet (the wrong one) into one of the stirrups (also the wrong one).

Now completely aware of the situation Buck tossed his head with contempt and started sidling away as I hopped along, one foot partly in the stirrup and the other trying to keep up with the horse. By this time a few fellow dudes were looking on with unconcealed enjoyment. It was no time to imply that I was trying to learn the polka. They had my number and so did Buck.

When I finally brought Buck to a stop near the corral railing, I lit a cigarette and attempted to regroup my shattered forces for another assault on the saddle which now seemed higher than ever. A pretty young thing rode by on a palamino with an ease that made my own plight all the more unbearable.

"You seem to be having trouble with your horse," she cooed sweetly, "would you like me to hold your horse while you get on?"

"No thanks, I'm doing alright," I muttered in sickly tones that were anything but convincing.

By now I was getting mad . . . not so much at Buck as at my own inadequacy. "I'll make it this time," I muttered "If I have to hop from here to Citadel Mountain."

Buck must have overheard. And this time he decided to give me the real run-around. As soon as I put my foot in the stirrup — this time it was the right one — the pesky critter began tripping its hind legs around clockwise while keeping its front legs in the same place.

After three or four hippety-hoppety revolutions of both horse and rider Buck came to an abrupt stop. A guide was standing by. I recovered my composure. Adjusting the stirrup he beckoned me to mount. "The left foot," he said, noticing that I was undecided. "Yes, of course, the left foot," I echoed mechanically.

A moment later to my surprise I found myself perched atop the saddle. I knew how Georgia Engelhard must have felt when she reached the summit of Mount Assiniboine. From now on things would be different. I'd show that hoss who was boss, I said out loud.

That was when I could have sworn the horse laughed — right out loud and right at me. He had carried dudes like me before.

The Wealth of Memory

by RAY BAGLEY

What are the best years of one's life
When all is said and done,
Are they the years that have slipped away
Or those that are yet to come.
How can one tell till the last one's here
How can we agree,
For the years that brought you the greatest joy

May not have been good to me.

What of the trails we journeyed o'er
What of the plans we made,
I sometimes wonder if the things I did
Were worth the price I paid;
I'm eager to know what lies beyond
Or down in the valley's cup,
And I reckon I'll ride a few more trails
Ere I hang my saddle up.

At eventide beneath the pines
By campfire's ruddy glow,
I like to sit and toast my shins
And think of folks I know;
Friends like you of bygone days
Wherever you may be
I'd dearly love to share the wealth —
The wealth of memory.

"Pic" Packets Ready

So you didn't have a camera on the rides this summer? Or maybe the excessive sunshine blurred your photographic efforts. Weep not, dear trail rider. The scenes have been captured for posterity by the skilful shutter of Bill Round and they can be yours for a moderate little sum.

The photos, depicting scenic highlights, campfire highlights and personal closeups, are available in sets of 12 and 15 glossy black and white prints, priced at $2.00 and $3.00 respectively, postage free. Just send your name, address — and cheque — to F. W. E. Round, P.O. Box No. 314, Banff, Alta.

A Message from The Past President

GREETINGS to every one who participated in the trail rides of 1949—and also to absent trail riders who missed a wonderful time!

We asked the trail ride committee to give us some new scenery this year and they certainly did it in a big way! We met at Banff, took chartered buses to a point about a mile out from Lake Louise station, then rode about 12 miles northeast into camp, and from there took the various rides each day, from 15 to 22 miles. The Parks Department was most co-operative and had cut some new trails never used before. This enabled us to see scenery far removed from rail or highways. Yes, we had some rain, and also sleet and snow in riding over Deception Pass, but it was a great experience and the Parks Department asked us to christen the former Fish Lakes as the new "Pipestone Lakes".

The camp was well located as to drainage. Lying in the 6,000-foot contour, it was not too cold and was convenient to good water. The food was the best we have had, thanks to the splendid cooks. The horses were in the best of condition and we had a grand crowd on both rides. So this is to again extend a word of thanks to all of the many individuals who contributed their efforts for a successful ride.

Insofar as I know, ours is the largest organization of its kind in North America. In Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland, etc., they have their "Hunts" for the day, but for an organized group of approximately 50 people to camp out for five days, I think the "Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies" are in a class by themselves. There are hundreds of good riders who would willingly come on this ride if they knew about it, so I trust everyone will tell the different riding clubs in their own or adjacent communities about this splendid organization.

It was indeed an honor to be your President for this past year and in turn we all offer our cooperation to our new President, Fern Brewster. Those beautiful mountain views will remain in our minds, not only for the coming winter season, but for many years to come. Best wishes to you all.

Sincerely,

Ralph J. Mather

THE EDITOR PRESENTS

A Great Big Orchid to

● Drs. Sid Gelfand and Ken Symington, our genial Calgary medicos, for their capable contribution to our welfare . . . Dr. John Murray Gibbon, our honorary president and founder, for attending his 24th annual trail ride in 26 years. He has missed two rides only since founding the order . . . John, Alvin and Eva Guinn for their superb efforts in the cookhouse. Never before have we heard so much well deserved praise poured into the cookhouse door. We still drool when we think of those flap-jacks . . . Jock Smith for donating a snappy T-shirt to the auction sale and buying it back after the bidding hit the high spots... Lloyd Johnston of Fort William for the grand job he did with his squeezebox. The success of the nightly singsongs was due largely to the efforts of our new musical "find" and the gal who discovered him, our talented and comely emcee Jean Stewart . . . Helene Newbrand of Honolulu, for deserting the languid shores of Waikiki Beach to brave the rugged trails of the Canadian Rockies . . . Shelby Cullon-Davis of Tarrytown, N.Y. for "bringing along the family" and adding four good names to our membership list . . . Ian Mackie for rousing the late sleepers with a minimum of bedlam and a maximum of diplomacy. And believe us, that job calls for plenty of the latter . . . Outfitter Claude B. Brewster and his illustrious cohorts who showed us a perfect example of teamwork at its best. All did their utmost to keep the dudes happy and comfortable in camp and on the trails . . . Barbara Bolton, Jock Smith and Bud McLaughlin who spent 12 days on the trail and came up smiling . . . To Tillie Knight and Jean Stewart for meting out sleeping bags and blankets to weary (hohum!) trail riders . . . To all other trail riders for the part they played toward the ride's outstanding success.

Trail Ride Film Scores Hit in U.S.

TRAIL riders have an enthusiastic goodwill ambassador and publicity agent in A. Curtis "Curt" Bogert of Baltimore, Md., who was last with us on the trail of '47.

Curt, who captured the highlights of that year's ride on celluloid — and in color — has been featuring the film in the course of his lecturing in Baltimore and nearby points. He has also enhanced the scene by providing a running commentary.

The film which was favorably reviewed by no less an authority than the National Geographic, was particularly well received during one of Mr. Bogert's recent lectures in his home city. Here is how Curt describes the event:

"It was practically a sell-out with 2,800 in attendance. The trail ride started the second half of the lecture. After the intermission I gave a brief resume of the history and purposes of the trail riders."

It is only natural that the question "How can I see it?" should arise among trail riders since announcement of the film was made in a previous issue of the Bulletin. Though Curt cannot, of course, part with the film, he suggests copies could be made should there be sufficient interest.

"If anyone wishes to get in touch with me about the lecture" says Curt, "or refer my name to their lecture series management, I should be very happy to correspond with them. The full lecture takes 90 minutes."

Warm Western Welcome For New "Exec" Body

To all newly elected members of the executive and council, in addition to those previously elected who remain in office, we extend a warm western handshake and best wishes for the coming season.

Each of these members has displayed more than a usual interest and enthusiasm in the affairs of the organization and each has shown himself or herself well qualified for holding office on the council and in the various committees.

To the presidency we welcome Fern P. Brewster of Banff whose praises are already sung in another section of the Bulletin. To the vice-presidential slate we extend an equally warm welcome to Dr. H. J. Vanek of Menomonie, Wis., and Chas. M. "Charlie" Dunn of Regina.

Greetings too to these newly appointed council members: Miss Elizabeth G. Smith, Jenkintown, Pa.; Mrs. W. A. Fuerst, Cincinnati, O.; Shelby C. Davis, Tarrytown, N.Y.; Charles Douglas, Calgary, Alta.; A. Douglas McNicol, Port Alberni, B.C.; M. G. Gourlay, Drumheller, Alta.; J. E. McLaughlin, St. Vital, Man.; J. W. Orkney, Yakima, Wash.; D. E. Peddie, Vancouver, B.C.; Frank Sabin, Eureka, Mont.; F. A. Bryant, Banff, Alta.

We also congratulate ex-President Ralph J. Mather of St. Paul, Minn., on his appointment to the membership committee and F. W. E. "Bill" Round, Banff, Alta. and R. J. Steeves, Field, B.C., whose names have been added to the trail committee.

Gala Pow-Wow Marks End of Trail

Giant Campfire Adds Glamor to Annual Wind-up

Townsend Trophy is awarded Helen Ramsay of Edmonton by Dr. J. M. Gibbon. Miss Ramsay took winning photo on '48 ride.

"It was the best in years."

That is how most trail riders summed up this year's annual pow-wow on the grounds of Banff Springs Hotel upon their return from the second five-day ride, July 26th.

It may have been due partly to our new doughnut-roofed assembly tent which permitted the lighting of an "indoor" campfire; it may have been due also to the distinguished gathering of fellow trail riders, past and present. Or perhaps it was due to a final upsurge of the magnificent spirit that permeated our ranks in camp and on the trail.

The hotel, with its magnificent landscaped grounds, presented a striking contrast to the rugged environment to which we had been accustomed. However, there were sufficient familiar objects and faces to contribute to the well-known camp scene and to make us nostalgic for our much-loved camp up the Pipestone.

Here was our same old pow-wow tent, transplanted that same day from camp to the hotel grounds. Here too was the familiar cook crew once more serving the sumptuous fare that brought new honors to Alvin, John and Eva. And here too were we, still sporting our camp garb, and looking just as we hope our comrades of the trail will remember us throughout the winter.

In addition to the riders themselves, a large number of hotel guests and townspeople attended the event which commenced shortly after 6.00 p.m. with the serving of supper on the hotel grounds. In contrast to last year's pow-wow, the weather was near perfect, with no raindrops splashing on the tin plates.

Top speakers on the program, which was punctuated by the singing of trail ride song favorites, introductions and presentations, included Ralph J. Mather, who presided; Dr. J. M. Gibbon, honorary president; Marshall H. Diverty and Col. P. A. Moore, both past presidents, and Stony Indian chiefs Johnny Bearspaw and Jake Two Young Man. The riders were welcomed on behalf of the National Parks by Superintendent J. A. Hutchison of Banff.

Highlights of the program included the introduction of incoming president Fern P. Brewster and other newly elected officers by Mr. Mather; presentation of the Townsend Trophy to Miss Helen Ramsay by Dr. Gibbon; a chicken dance capably executed by outfitter Claude B. Brewster and a few specialty numbers from the "Pennsy-Jersey" girls.

Many happy returns — and a cake — to J. H. McIver of Camrose, Alta., from cookhouse superintendent Eva Guinn.

In her usual capable style, our popular emcee, Jean Stewart of Fort William directed the musical end of the program with the assistance of accordionist Lloyd Johnston also from the Lakehead city. As a result, the entire audience—even non trail riders—joined lustily in the singing and left the tent humming the catchy tunes.

It was a grand climax to a grand ride.

PHOTOGRAPHERS! HERE'S YOUR CHANCETrophy Is Ready for All Contenders

HAVE you ever won a trophy — a silver cup you could set on your mantel-piece for all to admire?

Perhaps you think winning a trophy calls for swimming the Channel, barrelling your way over Niagara Falls or piloting a jalopy through a flaming hoop. If so, you're wrong, chum.

If you attended one of this year's trail rides and took one or more photos, you are eligible to compete for the big silver Townsend Trophy, donated by charter member Reginald Townsend of New York.

The trophy is awarded to the trail rider, who in the opinion of the judges, contributes the most outstanding photo snapped on the annual rides. The winner is selected by a panel of three judges, none of whom is a trail rider.

The rules are simple. Just look over your selection of this year's trail ride photos. Select the one or ones you consider most likely contenders and send them to the Editor. There is no limit to the number you may send in. All will be returned on request.

If you do have the winning photo, here's what you get as well as glory:

- (a) Your name inscribed on the big silver trophy which carries the name of each winner since 1929.
- (b) A small silver replica of the original cup — just right for your mantel-piece.
- (c) Your winning photograph reproduced — full page size — in the Bulletin.

Now that we've talked you into it, here are a few pointers to bear in mind when submitting your entries:

- (1) Photos should be printed in glossy finish in black and white.
- (2) Photos should be preferably 8" x 10" in size — smaller if necessary but no larger.
- (3) Name of photographer must be contained in sealed envelope on the outside of which is printed sender's nom-de-plume for final identification. The same nom-de-plume should be printed plainly on the back of each photo submitted.
- (4) Deadline for submitting photos is December 1, 1949.
- (5) Send all entries to the Editor, Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, Room 284, Windsor Station, Montreal, Que.

Spray River Chosen For 1950 Campsite

IT'S a bit early (as we go to press) to give complete details of next year's itinerary but we can give you a general idea of where the cavalcade will wind come July 1950.

Latest despatch received from Banff trail committee members reads as follows:

'Prospective campsite located at headwaters of Spray River within good riding distance of Palliser Pass, White Man's Pass and Royal group. . . New camp will be about 18 miles southeast of Mt. Assiniboine and reached by motor road to Spray River dam from Canmore, then 12 to 15 miles by horse.'

The royal group comprises a majestic series of peaks, the majority of which tower well above the 10,000-foot level. Canmore is a small and scenic mountain town 15 miles east of Banff.

Further details will be announced in the next Bulletin following the reconnaissance tour late in September by Bill Round and Claude Brewster, both experts in the art of trail blazing and selecting glamorous campsites.

Dates for the five-day trail rides of 1950 have been set as follows:

Trail Ride No. 1—Friday, July 14 to Tuesday, July 18.

Trail Ride No. 2—Friday, July 21 to Tuesday, July 25.

A 12-day ride for more experienced rides will be held from Friday, July 14 to Tuesday, July 25, should there be sufficient applications. Those interested in a "long ride" should write the secretary-treasurer as early as possible so plans can be made accordingly.

Trail Riders Mourn Passing of Dr. Prowd

Dr. C. W. Prowd

Dr. C. Wesley Prowd of Vancouver, noted Canadian radiologist and life member of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, died in hospital recently following a heart seizure. He was 66 years of age.

Dr. Prowd, whose name had long been associated with the trail riders, wore the order's 2,500-mile button and had attended many of our annual camps. He was a past president of the organization.

Director of radiology at St. Paul's hospital in Vancouver, Dr. Prowd was twice president of the Canadian Radiological Society. Well known for his work in cancer research, he brought the first supply of radium to the Pacific coast in 1915. He had been on St. Paul's hospital staff for 39 years.

Born in Owen Sound, Ont., Dr. Prowd went to Vancouver in 1908. He is survived by two daughters and two stepsons. His daughters, Barry and Pat, are both trail riders, the former at present serving on the council.

Skyline Trail Hikers Elect Bea de Lacy

Sunshine—and lots of it—was the weatherman's contribution to this year's five-day outing of the Sky Line Trail Hikers of the Canadian Rockies, sister organization of the Trail Riders.

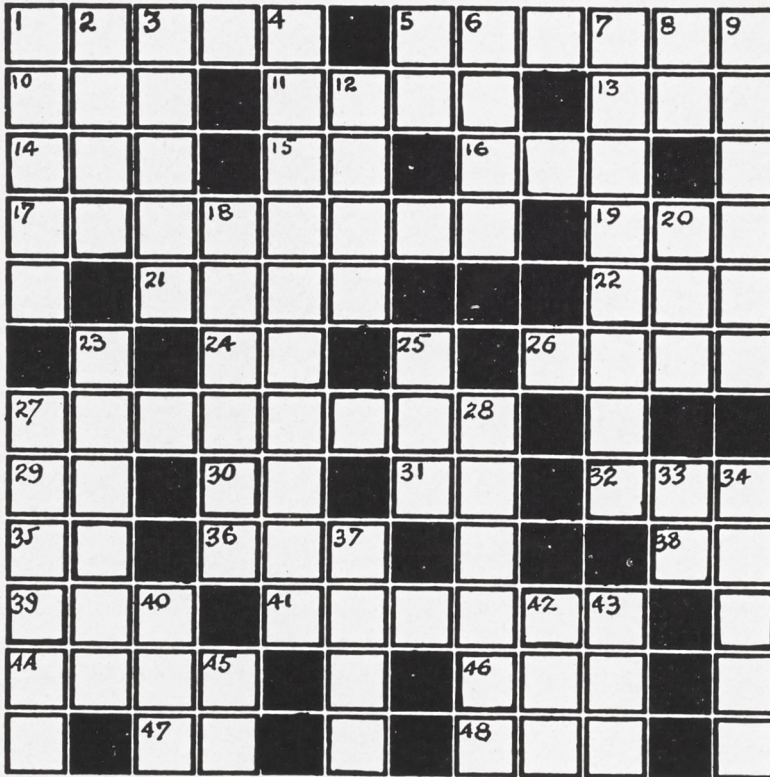

From their base camp near Skoki Lakes approximately 60 hikers set out each morning along trails that in some spots took them more than 9,000 feet above sea level. They also hiked a number of trails and visited points over which the trail riders rode several days earlier.

Bea de Lacy of Portland, Ore., was elected president of the hikers for the current year. She succeeds E. P. Holmes of Calgary, Alta.

Dates for the 1950 hike have been set at Saturday, July 29th to Wednesday, August 2nd, inclusive. Particulars will be supplied on request by Graham Nichols, Secretary-Treasurer, Sky Line Trail Hikers of the Canadian Rockies, Room 284, Windsor Station, Montreal, Que.

Trail Ride Activities Widely Publicized In Canada and U.S.A.

THOUGH most of us (we hope) look to the Bulletin for Trail Ride news, stories and photographs featuring our activities frequently appear in the pages of newspapers and magazines in this country and the United States.

During the past few weeks, the trail riders have been featured in particularly grand style by certain top-ranking publications in the two countries. Many of our members have enjoyed these in the course of their reading while some have kindly submitted copies to the editor.

13,000,000 Read About It

Of special interest to our organization is the two-page pictorial spread entitled "Trail Riders of the Rockies" appearing in the June 26th issue of "PARADE", weekly illustrated magazine supplement carried by a number of leading U.S. newspapers.

This magazine, which has a total of some 13,000,000 readers, chooses a recent ride to Mount Assiniboine as the subject of its article and features a number of pictorial highlights of that camp. Many "familiar faces" are evident in the photo display.

Big Play in Tennessee Mag

"Blue Ribbon", the new official year book of the famed Tennessee Walking Horse National Celebration, devotes nearly four pages of copy and photographs based on last year's ride and others of recent years. The article, entitled "Hitting the High Spots" was released shortly before the '49 ride got underway.

The first "full dress" feature based on the ride just concluded appears in the September 3rd roto section of the Montreal Standard weekly magazine. The pictorial layout is headed by a striking, giant-sized view of Pica Mountain with a file of trail riders moving in the foreground. Other photos feature camp scenes and faces that will bring back fond memories to those who participated in this year's rides. All photos were taken by Nick Morant of Montreal.

Wear a Button !

● No trail rider should go around these days with a vacancy in his lapel. There are too many trail ride buttons in the secretary-treasurer's office just itching to find a nice lapel to settle down in for the winter.

Perhaps too you have graduated into another mileage bracket since acquiring your present button. If so, and your mileage has been certified, the new button is yours for the asking.

The buttons, bearing the order's official insignia, (see page 27) are styled for trail riders of both sexes, the brooch style for ladies and those equipped with screw caps for men's lapels. To refresh your memory we quote below the styles and corresponding prices of the official trail ride pin.

REMEMBER SIMPSON RIVER?

The fourth day was clear and relatively bright. The Red Deer Lakes were the target for the days outing and the riders were constantly pestered by the two official photographers who had to make pictures while the sun shone. Rafting on the lake with the cowboys during the lunch halt proved popular with some of the young ladies and one put on an impromptu swimming exhibition. Then back to camp for supper and the many and varied acts of an excellent stunt night.

The last day of the ride did not look too good from the weather standpoint. However, despite gray skies, the rain held off all the way up the Little Pipestone and Skoki Valleys, past Skoki Lodge and up the long sidehill of Deception Pass. At the 8600-ft elevation, a snowstorm that had been hiding on the Ptarmigan Glacier swirled in and blotted out the view. All thoughts of lunch on the shores of Ptarmigan Lake, all thoughts of taking cut-throat trout from the lake's waters were blown away with the howling July blizzard.

A non-stop ride to the shelter of the timber below Boulder Pass ensued and many a snowy trail rider enjoyed no more view of that country than his horses ears. In groups of three or four the horsemen dribbled down over the lip of the pass to the first timber where the lunch mechanic had a roaring fire alight and tea and coffee in the making.

But after lunch the snow vanished as suddenly as it had come. The sun emerged and horses and riders steamed in the warming rays. President Mather led the group down the Ptarmigan Valley, past Halfway Hut and Temple Lodge to the warden road to Lake Louise. Soon, above the clip-clop of the horses could be heard the strange sound of trains and motorcars. We dismounted alongside the warden road where the cowboys dismissed the horses and Claude and his men produced a trail supper. Then into the busses and off for Banff, richer by a swarthy coat of tan, the smell of wood-smoke and memories of five unforgettable days with the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies.

● If pix at left look strange to you Forty-niners don't think you're losing your memory. They were taken in 1948 when Trail Riders were encamped on Police Meadows near the headwaters of Simpson River.

Now We Have Cards

Next time you pay your annual dues, Mr., Miss or Mrs. Trail Rider, you'll get in return something more exciting than a mere receipt with the secretary's signature. Also enclosed, you'll find a handsome blue and white membership card bearing the order's insignia — just right for inserting in a window of your pocket book.

We felt it was high time the organization acquired such a card for distribution to its paid up members. We feel too that trail riders will be happy to carry them around, not only for identification purposes but to help spread the trail ride message — particularly when you discover you've left your button in your other suit.

Badges — Maybe

We are also following up the suggestion that cloth badges for sporting on sweaters, blazers, windbreakers, etc., be made available to members. We have investigated the matter and find any number of firms who can produce the "painted" product and at a reasonable rate.

However, we feel that something composed of stitches would be more acceptable to our rank and file even though the cost would be a bit higher. Right now we're trying to find some kind establishment that can do the job at a price that will not be too hard on our pocket books.

At any rate, we'll let you know what happens in a subsequent issue. With buttons, cards and cloth badges in the ensemble people should be able to spot a Trail Rider a mile away — even if he's walking.

Popular Trail Rider Weds in Indiana

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hoffmeyer

A honeymoon tour embracing a number of outstanding national parks in the United States followed the wedding on July 2nd of Nora Elizabeth Riehle to trail rider Keith E. Hoffmeyer of Indianapolis, Ind., a former president and popular member of the organization.

Says the happy groom: "Nora is an Indianapolis girl. I have known her about two years. We were introduced at our skating club in the Coliseum, became good friends, then—Bingo! the love bug bit me!"

The bride, who Keith describes as a "perfect wife", has a long list of sports hobbies to her credit, being a rider, hiker, skater and bowler. "All this and brown eyes too," boasts the groom.

The honeymoon tour included Zion National Park, the Grand Canyon, Bryce National Park, Salt Lake City, Estes Park, Colorado. The couple also "crossed trails" with Marshall Diverty in Chicago.

Keith and his bride are at present building a new home in Indianapolis and hope to renew acquaintances with fellow trail riders next summer.

It's Easy to Become a Member!

Who are the Trail Riders ?

The Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies comprise an independent society of alpine enthusiasts of both sexes who each year hold two or more camps—usually of five days' duration and a 12-day ride—in the vicinity of Banff or Lake Louise.

Membership in the order is open to all, regardless of race, creed, color or profession.

What are their aims ?

Principal aims of the society are to encourage horseback riding over the more remote trails of the Canadian Rockies, to encourage the construction of new trails and the maintenance and improvement of those already in use, to promote good fellowship, interest in wild life, and to co-operate with other organizations holding similar aims.

How are they governed ?

Established in 1923 by John Murray Gibbon, well known author and lyricist, and retired general publicity agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Trail Riders have their own constitution, executive officers, council, and various operating committees. A new slate of officers is elected annually, the office of President alternating each year between a Canadian and an American Trail Rider.

How is the camp conducted ?

Trail Riders make their headquarters at a permanent camp from which a series of outstanding trails radiate. They set out each morning on new trails, lunch on the trail, and return to camp at nightfall for supper, sing-song and campfire entertainment. Riders make their homes in tepees, artistically decorated by Indians of the local Stony tribe. Sleeping bags take the place of beds.

How do I join the annual ride ?

To make application for any of the annual rides simply drop a note to the Secretary-Treasurer, Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, Room 284, Windsor Station, Montreal, Que., enclosing a deposit of $10.00, and stating which of the rides you wish to attend. If you find it necessary to cancel your reservation on or before June 15 your deposit is refunded. If it is your first ride, the Secretary-Treasurer will enclose an "outfitter's form" requesting information as to your experience, weight, etc., so that a suitable horse may be assigned. That's all there is to it.

What is the cost ?

Cost of each of the five-day rides is the same as last year—$60.00

This includes horse, saddle equipment, tepee accommodation, meals, guide services, gratuities and bus transportation between Banff and corral.

What experience is required ?

You don't need to be an expert rider to join the organization. Some join the rides with very little experience in the saddle. The horses are mild mannered, sure footed mountain cayuses noted for their dependability on the trails.

The cavalcade moves in single file mostly at a walk, an average day's ride comprising 15 to 20 miles with rest periods. Seated in a big western saddle with hand resting on saddle horn, even the greenest dude can watch the landscape in complete comfort and security. And if you happen to be weary some morning you can laze around camp all day without loss of face!

How do I become a member ?

To be a full-fledged member of the organization you must have at least 50 miles of Rocky Mountain trail riding to your credit. This mileage can be acquired either with the Trail Riders themselves or independently.

Upon completion of a membership form and payment of the annual $2.00 fee, you become a full-fledged member and are entitled to wear the button of the order, these varying with your accumulated mileage. (See page 23). As a member you are entitled to receive the Trail Riders' official magazine, issued three times a year. You also become eligible for any office in the executive or council.
